1st ever Citroën SUV

4 beautiful angles

What is style? In our view, style is about distinction and personality; style is something that catches your eye and holds it. The C-Crosser has these qualities. Some people will see them in the expressive Citroën chevrons, or the fluid lines created by the headlamps that follow the flow of the wheel arches; on closer inspection, others may be visually intrigued by the aerodynamic sloping roof, the chrome trim or the unique wheel designs.

Our designers have worked hard to create an SUV that doesn't look or act like an SUV. We hope you find it as beautiful as we do.

100% driver focused

Nowadays, there's a button for everything. Some you need, plenty you don't. A car dashboard can end up looking like something NASA has created. It's not like that in the C-Crosser. Its dash is pure and uncluttered. There are buttons, of course, but each one is there for a reason and is well positioned for simple operation.

It's part of a clean, high quality interior that perfectly reflects the sporty styling of the exterior. The comfortable sports seats, available in cloth or leather, not only look great but also provide an excellent driving position. Elsewhere inside, you'll find contemporary instrument dials and stylish door-panels. All in all, it's an interior designed to push all the right buttons.

7 passengers

The C-Crosser is a very social vehicle. Its well thought out seating system of 5 standard seats, plus 2 fully retractable seats that fold flat into the boot floor, means there's more than enough room for 7 passengers to mingle. Storage-wise it's very clever too; there are up to 21 inventive compartments dotted around the cabin, and the load area is one of the largest in its class.

Everything about the C-Crosser has been designed for living: a simple press of a button folds the rear seats; a split tailgate makes for easy loading; an optional reversing camera for those tricky spaces; a rigid body and 6 airbags for impressive safety. Even the tail-lights are smarter, using LEDs ensures optimal visibility and low energy consumption.

Let's talk safety. Not in the sense of airbags and such, but actual driving safety. The C-Crosser has three driving modes – Two-wheel drive (2WD), Four-wheel drive (4WD) and Lock-up mode. Each one has a specific benefit, depending on driving conditions. Handy to know when there's a powerful 2.2HDi Diesel engine pushing out a good deal of 'oomph'.

Here's how each mode works: 2WD is front wheel drive used on tarmac, and guarantees high grip on dry roads; 4WD is where torque is automatically split between the front and rear axles, for optimal grip in all conditions; Lock-up mode is like 4WD only with 1.5 times more torque sent to the rear axle – perfect for conditions like snow, sand or mud.

At least you know for all the C-Crosser's style, there's more than enough substance to go with it.

156 bhp

Responsive. Hardly a word you'd associate with your normal, run-of-the-mill SUV. Then again, the C-Crosser is anything but normal or run-of-the-mill. The key difference is a powerful engine that delivers 156bhp and plenty of torque. So when the need arises, the C-Crosser responds in a very sporty manner – quickly and effectively.

Another sporty attribute is agility, and it has that too; highly responsive handling and glue-like road holding is delivered through the on-demand 4x4 system that matches up perfectly with the 6-speed gearbox and specially designed Michelin tyres. For complete confidence, the C-Crosser is also equipped with high-performance brakes, ABS, EBD (Electronic Brakeforce Distribution), ESP (Electronic Stability Programme) and traction control as standard.

At Citroën, we like to put our finest heads together to create vehicles full of innovation, technology and environmental awareness. The C-Crosser is our latest pride and joy.

Take the 2.2 HDi engine. Despite its power, the CO<sub>2</sub> emissions of 194 g/km are among the lowest in its class. Also, when you combine the engine, the on-demand 4x4 system, plus factors like the weight saving aluminium roof, you'll be using less fuel – and that can only be a good thing.

Another good thing is our Diesel Particulate Filter System (DPFS) – a very important piece of innovation. This clever little filter stores up the particulates given out by Diesel fuel, then burns them off long before they ever get near the atmosphere.

It's smart thinking like this that makes the C-Crosser a very responsible SUV.
