quattro®

four-wheel-drive

Cars that deliver as much pulling power as the Audi A3 and A3 Sportback need a harness in place – a technology that delivers safety and control whilst enhancing the sporty characteristics which make them so thrilling to drive. That's why the latest generation of quattro® four-wheel-drive is available on selected A3 and A3 Sportback models. The principle is simple: in the same way that four brakes ensure better deceleration, four permanently-driven wheels deliver better acceleration and road-holding. On quattro® models, drive power is continuously distributed between the front and rear axles depending on weather conditions, road surface and gradient. And what better technology to feature on this sporty model than the one that has given Audi the edge on the racetrack ever since it was first introduced over 25 years ago.

Engines

Petrol

There are two kinds available on this model – the standard petrol engine and the FSI® direct-injection engine. FSI® is a unique Audi technology originally developed for the Le Mans 24-hour endurance race to deliver increased power and torque as well as enhanced fuel efficiency. The way it does this is, in theory, very simple. Fuel is injected directly into the combustion chambers, ‘unthrottling’ the engine, reducing heat-loss and increasing output – all whilst reducing fuel consumption and exhaust emissions. Ideal for the buyer who wants a sporty, exhilarating drive without the drawbacks of excessive fuel costs or high emissions-based taxation.

Diesel

All diesel engines from Audi are known as TDI®. This impressive technology was originally pioneered by Audi in 1989, marking a departure from the noisy, fuel-thirsty diesel engines of the past. Like its FSI® petrol counterpart, the TDI® diesel engine is designed for power and performance, with low fuel consumption and CO₂ emissions. The working principle of the TDI® engine is based upon precision and compression. A turbo-charger supplies fresh air to the engine, ensuring optimum filling of the cylinder. Immediately after compression, an injector then delivers fuel into the combustion chambers at a very high pressure. The result – you get the most in terms of performance and economy from every drop of fuel that enters the tank.

Transmissions

Audi offers a variety of different transmission options to suit your requirements and driving style. In addition to the classic manual gearbox are two innovative automatic and semi-automatic transmission options. To help you come to an informed decision, each of these is described in detail opposite.

S tronic

The revolutionary S tronic gearbox combines the agility and responsiveness of a conventional 6-speed manual gearbox with the convenience and smooth, uninterrupted power of automatic transmission. The technical basis of the S tronic gearbox is the double clutch. This consists of two lubricated plates with hydraulically-regulated contact pressure. One engages the odd-numbered, the other the even-numbered gears, enabling gear-shifts to be made in a fraction of a second, with no disruption to the power flow. Depending on how the mood takes you, you can either allow gear-changes to take place automatically or, for a sportier driving style, operate the S tronic system using the gear lever or steering wheel shift-paddles. The choice is yours.

tiptronic

The 6-speed tiptronic transmission system is a form of automatic transmission available on Audi models with quattro® four-wheel-drive. The technology converts high-torque engine power into both sporty performance and operating convenience, with crisp, fast gear changes, reduced weight and an optimised gearshift strategy. More spontaneous gear changes are a particular benefit, especially when down-shifting. Both in the ‘D’ (Drive) and ‘S’ (Sport) programme, the advanced electronics used in tiptronic respond efficiently to every driver input, helping to prevent unwanted upshifts when cornering.

CO₂ data and information

CO₂ emissions-based Vehicle Excise Duty

Vehicle Excise Duty (Road Fund Licence) is based upon the type of fuel a vehicle uses and the amount of carbon dioxide (CO₂) it emits, measured in grams per kilometre (g/km). The DVLA has created six categories for petrol engines and six categories for diesel engines.

CO₂ emission figures

The CO₂ emission figures quoted in the technical data section on pages 20-23 are based on a fully laden vehicle, including the driver, and the heaviest possible options configuration. Actual CO₂ emissions may be lower depending on options selected.

| | Petrol engines | Diesel engines |
|----------------------------|----------------|----------------|
| A – up to 100 g/km | £0.00 | £0.00 |
| B – 101 to 120 g/km | £40.00 | £50.00 |
| C – 121 to 150 g/km | £100.00 | £110.00 |
| D – 151 to 165 g/km | £125.00 | £135.00 |
| E – 166 to 185 g/km | £150.00 | £160.00 |
| F – 186 to 225 g/km | £190.00 | £195.00 |
| G – over 226 g/km | £210.00 | £215.00 |

Servicing

Servicing tailored to your needs

Prior to the 2000 model year, almost all Audi models followed a traditional fixed Service Schedule similar to that of other major car manufacturers: a Lubrication Service every 10,000 miles and an Inspection Service every 12 months or 20,000 miles – whichever occurred sooner. Since then, Audi has introduced a more flexible maintenance system that works in accordance with how, where and how much an individual uses their car.

The two Servicing Regimes available are the conventional 'Inspection Service Regime' and the flexible 'LongLife Service Regime'. When you purchase a new car, we will recommend one of these regimes to you depending on your own individual driving style and journey-type. The tables below should give you an indication of which regime might be more appropriate for you.

With the LongLife Service Regime, on-board sensors continuously monitor the condition of the engine oil in terms of temperature, level and oil degradation. The monitoring system also checks mileage, brake-pad wear and battery condition. Using this information, the car's on-board

Inspection Service Regime

| Vehicle usage: | |
|------------------------------------|--|
| Mileage | Less than 10,000* miles per annum. |
| Type of Journey | Mainly city/town centre driving. Short journeys. |
| Conditions | Frequent cold starts. High engine loading – e.g. frequent hill climbs, vehicle fully loaded, towing. |
| Driving style | Uneconomical – e.g. heavy acceleration, heavy braking, constant changes in speed, constant use of high revs, 'sporty' driving. |
| Service intervals: | |
| Oil-change Service | Every 10,000* miles / 1 year |
| Interval Service | Every 20,000* miles / 2 years |
| Interval Service Inspection | Every 40,000* miles / 4 years |

computer calculates its own maintenance interval, providing you with ample warning of a due Service via the 'distance to Service' display.

In practice, this means that every Audi gets the maintenance it needs, when it needs it. For companies and private owners alike, there are many advantages to the LongLife Service Regime. Longer service intervals mean lower maintenance costs, and thus lower whole-life costs. According to company car mileage monitored at Audi since the introduction of LongLife, petrol engines are typically achieving an average of at least 17,500 miles and diesel engines around 20,000 miles between services.

One of the factors that makes this kind of servicing regime possible is the advanced engineering and technology that goes into Audi engines. Furthermore, Audi use high-grade long-life oils such as Castrol SLX LongLife III, which are designed to withstand ageing and high loads without deterioration. Compared to conventional oils, these advanced-formulation oils also give exceptional levels of engine protection, are kinder to the environment and deliver average fuel savings of 2.7%.

LongLife Service Regime

| Vehicle usage: | |
|------------------------------------|---|
| Mileage | More than 30 miles per day. |
| Type of Journey | Motorway and main road driving. Mainly longer distance journeys. Constant speeds. |
| Conditions | Normal engine loading – e.g. with little or no towing, with little or no hill climbs. Normal vehicle loading. |
| Driving style | Moderate acceleration, moderate braking, engine revs mainly below 3000. |
| Service intervals: | |
| Interval Service | Flexible to a maximum 20,000* miles / 2 years |
| Interval Service Inspection | Every 40,000* miles / 4 years |

*Mileages are approximate as the Service Indicator system uses kilometres as its distance measurement.
