We haven't reinvented the wheel. Although after so many tests, you would almost suppose we had.

Audi cast aluminium wheels are subjected to constant strain during daily use. Comprehensive testing ensures that they nevertheless fulfil the high quality requirements expected of them. Furthermore, the use of complex casting processes results in high component strength, whilst the multiple coats of high-quality paint do not just create a stunning look, but also offer effective protection against scratches.

The standards applied during testing are considerably more stringent than the statutory regulations. When additionally purchasing summer tyres or when fitting winter tyres, Audi Genuine tyres are able to ensure the usual Audi quality.

*Please note the following information relating to wheels: Machine-polished, polished or part-polished aluminium wheels must not be used in the event of wintry road conditions. Due to the manufacturing process, the rim surfaces do not possess sufficient anti-corrosion protection and are at risk of long-term damage due to road salt or similar materials.

Beauty knows no pain.

By undergoing a copper accelerated acetic acid salt spray test, for example. When our experts test the quality of Audi Genuine Accessories wheels, they are just as innovative as our designers. Intense heat, high humidity, strong sunlight – there is practically no limit to the number of possible tests. But the most extreme endurance test is the copper accelerated acetic acid salt spray test, known as CASS. In the test, wheels which have been previously damaged by simulated stone chips are sprayed with this extremely corrosive solution for several days. Yet they must overcome all these challenges without visible adverse effects – so that even after many miles, you can be as thrilled by the design of your Audi Genuine Accessories wheels as you were on the first day.

What the 15th of March 1954 has to do with the development of our child seats.

This was the day that Georges de Mestral received his patent for velcro. He thus posed a challenge for the Audi developers of today: the velcro test. Children's shoes or jackets often have velcro fastenings which wear the material out due to lodgement. The test therefore involves pulling velcro strips off the child seat covers repeatedly in order to test their durability. Only when the fibres have passed this and many other tests are they good enough to be processed into an Audi child seat. But the design, as well as the quality, must satisfy the high demands of Audi. That is why the individual threads are dyed. According to the exact specifications of our designers, so that they perfectly match the interior of an Audi. It practically goes without saying that the cover materials are Oeko-Tex® certified and breathable.

What can you learn from bats about parking?

Subject: Comfort

Parking system

There are few things we would like to mention. Such as ultrasonic navigation. Bats use this technique with impressive precision to navigate the most difficult of terrains. It was therefore only natural that Audi would fall back on this principle for the parking aid – a retrofit solution designed to help you park and judge distances. The four bumper sensors (which can be painted over) alternately send out an ultrasound signal that is reflected back by any obstacles. To achieve a high level of system precision in the relevant area between 1.40 m and 30 cm, the retrofit kit is individually calibrated, thereby preventing objects such as the trailer towing hitch from Audi Genuine Accessories from being falsely detected. Using ultrasound, the bat arrives at its destination – and your Audi arrives safely in its parking space.

1 Retrofit solution for the parking system

Supports the driver by indicating acoustically how far away the vehicle is from an obstacle. Four ultrasonic sensors are concealed in the rear bumper. Activated by selecting reverse gear.

2 Retrofit solution for the cruise control system

Keeps the set speed constant at 30 km/h and above*. Active braking intervention, e.g. when driving downhill, is also possible, as is operation via the separate steering column stalk. The set speed is displayed in the driver information system.

Mud flaps

Made out of high-quality plastic. Reduce paint damage and dirt around the sills and the rear apron panel. Available in sets of two for the front and/or rear.

LED gooseneck reading lamp

Very bright light exactly where it is needed – thanks to the flexible silicon rubber neck. High level of stability in any position. Connection via the cigarette lighter.
