MORE CHILD SEATS

Vauxhall offers three different types of child seat, from birth to 12 years, for tailored, individual safety while travelling. Your Vauxhall Sales Consultant will be happy to check which seat is compatible for your family needs.

WHAT IS THE LAW?

- All children under three years old MUST use an appropriate child restraint when travelling in any car or goods vehicle (except in the back of a taxi if a child seat is not available).
- Children aged three, or over, and up to 135cm (approx 4ft. 5in.) in height MUST use an appropriate child restraint when travelling in cars or goods vehicles fitted with seat belts.
- Rear-facing baby seats MUST NOT be used in seats with an active frontal airbag.
- A PERMITTED EXCEPTION is for children over three years on an occasional journey (e.g. an unforeseen emergency) over a short distance. The child MUST still use an adult belt and sit in the rear. This exemption is NOT for journeys such as the regular school run.

TOURING

It doesn't seem to make any difference how big your car is, sooner or later you always find you need more room for carrying things. That's when an addition such as a tow bar or a roof carrier system becomes invaluable.
