Heavy is not a word you want to see associated with a sports car. So, on the MG XPower SV, you'll find a body shell comprised solely of featherweight carbon fibre. Light yet phenomenally strong.

And what a body. Sleek. Honed. Aerodynamic. Not a line out of place.

A supercar.

Inside, the impeccable sports bloodline is just as evident. Deep Recaro bucket seats and four belt harnesses clasp you in place. It's a luxurious place too. Leather, Alcantara® and deep wool carpets combined in a range of colour schemes.

In front of you, an advanced all-aluminium V8 with quad camshafts delivering flexible torque and breathtaking top-end power. Yet, Brembo brakes wipe off speed in a brutal instant.

With aerodynamics and chassis working together to deliver true thoroughbred handling – including switchable traction control – this is a car for the true enthusiast.

Chassis and body built in Italy's supercar heartland. Craftsman-finished by MG Sport & Racing in Britain. Built to be used.

Race-bred for the real world.

MG XPOWER SV

MG XPower SV: simply, it's the MG of MGs.
