The calm amidst the storm.

Audi design is unique. Alongside an impressive appearance, products from Audi Genuine Accessories must also meet our rigorous standards when it comes to functionality and achieving a high level of quality. This is why our roof boxes go through extensive crash testing at the development stage, ensuring that they are ready to face numerous demanding situations.

The result is clear to see and is best reflected by the practicality of the product – not least because the roof boxes must demonstrate this characteristic in several different testing procedures, such as weather tests in extreme climate zones. Whether it is rainy and stormy, the sun is beating down, or the temperature has plunged – the roof boxes must prove that they can withstand the many influences of the climate and that they can endure this durability test over a long period of time. Whatever you are planning, the new ski and luggage boxes from Audi Genuine Accessories ensure that you can always transport your luggage reliably and conveniently.
