Marquis Brougham and Marquis 4-door hardtops

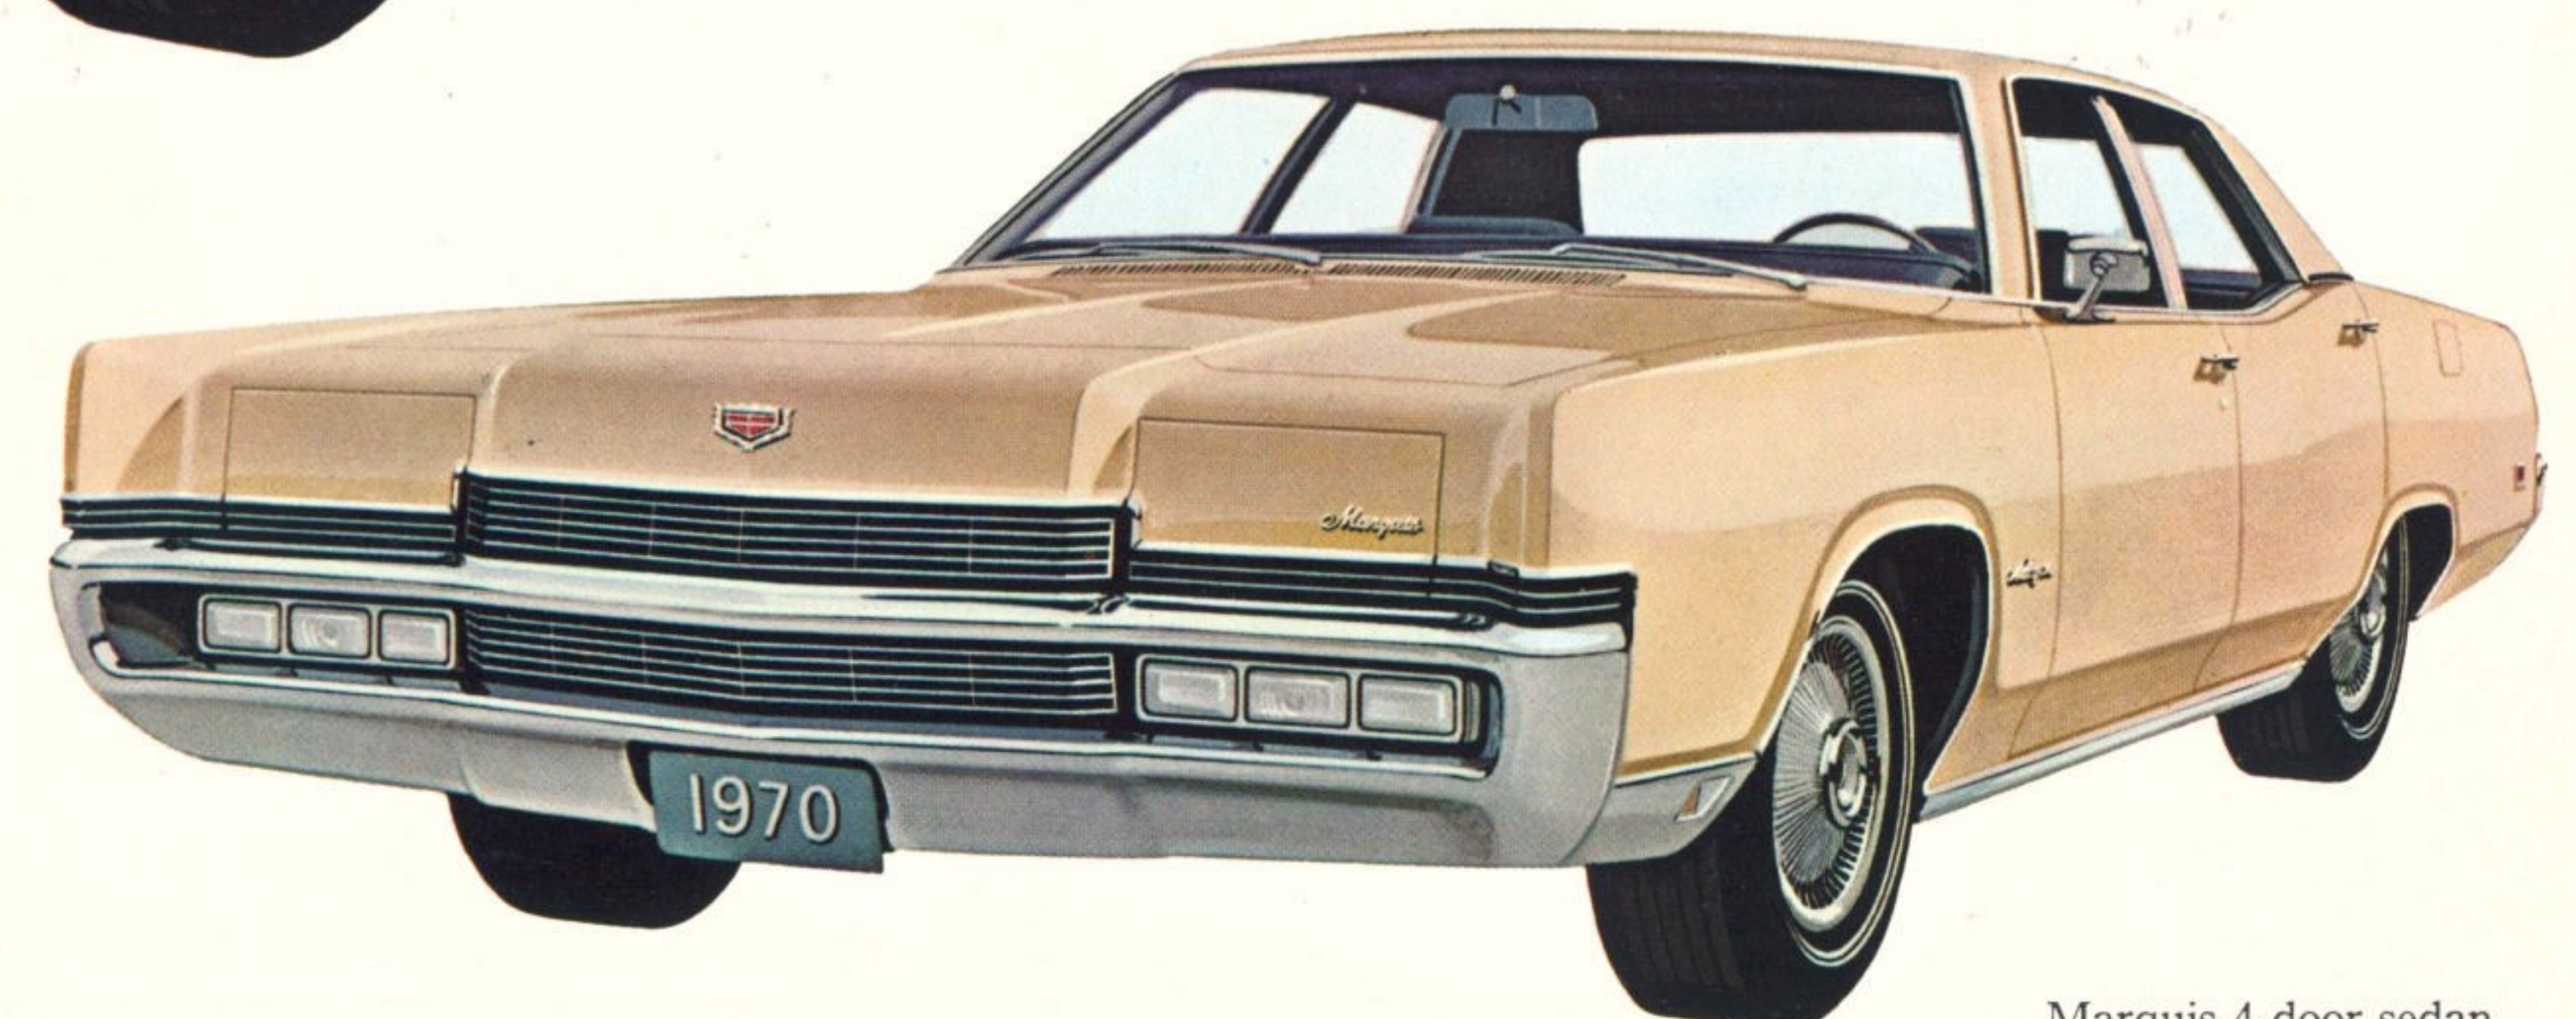

Marquis and Marquis Brougham are the most luxurious medium-priced cars from Mercury for 1970. They are distinguished in their field by the most dramatic styling since the Continental Mark III. In all, there are seven models—Marquis 4-door sedan, 4-door hardtop and 2-door hardtop. Marquis Brougham is available in a 4-door sedan, 2-door hardtop, convertible and 4-door hardtop. All of these cars are illustrated on the following pages. The Marquis Station Wagon and Marquis Colony Park Station Wagon are described in a separate station wagon catalog available from your Mercury dealer. Marquis Brougham models differ from Marquis in such standard features as a unique ornamentation and remarkably luxurious interiors and in optional features such as the distinctive upper body molding shown on the Brougham at left.

Marquis Brougham and Marquis 4-door sedans

Marquis and Marquis Brougham have been widely acclaimed as the most beautiful medium-priced cars ever built by the makers of Lincoln Continental. A number of improvements make them even more desirable this year. The grille and taillamp areas have been refined for a more impressive appearance. A new anti-theft ignition switch locks the steering mechanism and transmission when the key is removed. Other innovations include new exterior paint colors and a new optional, electrically heated rear window defroster for hardtops and sedans and, for Marquis Brougham, a new sound insulation for a quieter ride, a rim blow horn located in the steering wheel rim. For added safety, side marker lights now flash on and off with the turn signals.

Marquis 2-door hardtop

Marquis and Marquis Brougham 2-door hardtops

The Lincoln Continental heritage of Marquis and Marquis Brougham is particularly apparent out on the road. The ride is in every respect luxurious—smooth, quiet and exceptionally stable. This is the result of wide tread, large front springs, extra insulation, enlarged stabilizer bar and ultra-quiet exhaust system. A big 429 cubic inch, 320-horsepower V-8 engine with 2-barrel carburetor is standard in every Marquis Brougham sedan, hardtop and convertible. It delivers a comforting surge of power whenever required. Select-Shift automatic transmission is also standard in Marquis Brougham. A great many other driving conveniences and styling and comfort features are listed on page 10. You can add to the extraordinary pleasure of driving Marquis or Brougham by selecting some of the more popular options described on pages 18 and 19.

Marquis Brougham convertible

The high standards of luxury and elegance set by Marquis Brougham are in no way compromised in the convertible. It displays the same distinctive Marquis Brougham flair, with ventless side windows featuring a pronounced glass curvature, concealed headlamps and full-width taillamps. Mercury's 429 cubic inch V-8 is standard along with Select-Shift automatic transmission. Smartly tailored all-vinyl interiors in a wide range of colors especially reflect Marquis Brougham elegance. There is an unusual amount of room in the rear seat, and the scratch-resistant, non-yellowing tempered glass rear window folds up and down with the top without having to be zippered in and out.

Marauder X-100 and Marauder

A dramatic and highly distinctive roof design with tunneled rear window immediately distinguishes the Marauder and Marauder X-100. An optional two-tone paint treatment for the roof and rear deck can add to their distinction. □ The Marauder X-100 with its standard 360 horsepower, 429-4V V-8 engine and Select-Shift automatic transmission fully qualifies as an all-out performance machine. Luxury wheel covers, fender skirts on the rear quarter panels and white sidewall belted wide tread tires are also standard equipment. □ The Marauder is a more economical approach to distinction in the field of sports motoring. It features six-passenger roominess and is powered by a husky 390 cubic inch basic engine. A number of high performance options such as a competition handling package, Traction-Lok axle, power front disc brakes and a high performance rear axle are available for both Marauder and Marauder X-100. Ask your Mercury dealer for information on these items.
