

URBAN ATTITUDE

2008 FORD SPORT TRAC ADRENALIN

Street-Tuned. From the Factory.

Ford Sport Trac has always delivered unrestricted utility and a passport for adventure to those who live it. The 2008 Adrenalin takes Sport Trac off the rugged trail and into the urban jungle – where style rules.

“Sport Trac has always offered amenities like comfortable seating for four and combined it with truck toughness, utility and functionality,” says Ford designer Melvin Betancourt. “Adrenalin adds a splash of contemporary European touring flair. It dramatically ups the cool factor.”

“The customer buying this truck is more concerned with how it looks and how they look in it. They might not ever tow anything with it, but it’s extremely capable.”

“You get that aftermarket look but it’s not an aftermarket vehicle. It’s built to Ford’s high standards of quality and craftsmanship. Plus, it just looks like it’s going a hundred miles an hour – even when it’s parked.”

A bold monochromatic appearance, aggressive stance and 20-inch polished aluminum wheels give the 2008 Ford Sport Trac Adrenalin the swagger of a street-tuned SUV. And since Adrenalin is from the factory, it has all the quality, capability and flexibility expected from a Ford Sport Trac.
