

Considering all
the minivan
choices available
today, maybe you should ask for a second opinion.

Ask the family who put 217,000 hectic miles on one.

For starters, ask Jim and Donna Schnitz, from Orem, Utah.

"Our '85 Caravan was the most reliable vehicle we've ever owned. Practically a member of the family. Probably better behaved than the kids, too. I feel safe in the Caravan. With front-wheel drive, it's great in the snow and up in the mountains. Our '92 has an airbag,² and that's important. It's like driving the family car. And the other minivans we looked at didn't have the convenience. If you want to get the most out of your Caravan, just keep on driving it."

Our sentiments exactly.

Ask the State Troopers who wouldn't put their families in anything else.

Listen to David Laing and Kenny Wiles.

"Together with our buddy, Dave Wingard, we've probably worked 3,000 accidents. And there's no minivan that we'd put our wives and children in other than a minivan from Chrysler. They were the first with a standard airbag.² First to make available integrated child seats. They offer anti-lock brakes, too. And we were really impressed with how well they did in crash tests. On top of that, they're the best looking minivans on the road. They keep getting better, year after year."

Thanks, officers. We're sold on Plymouth Voyager, too.

Ask the woman who can't imagine life without one.

Marge Currie from Agoura Hills, California, said it all.

"Our older son played football. Scott plays hockey. The girls are actresses and dancers and gymnasts. We practically live in our Caravan. It's a traveling study room. A rehearsal hall on wheels. Locker room. Dressing room. And so comfortable, it's like sitting in our living room. Our Caravan is the perfect family car. It drives like a car, too. With plenty of power and maneuverability. And since it's front-wheel drive, it's great in the rain. I wouldn't look at another minivan."

We couldn't agree more.
